

How to reduce costs while creating this new product?

Initially, we must verify what's common between the already existing projects and the new one.

What do they have in common?